Our series will present candidates as follows:

The League of Women Voters has been conducting fair and balanced Candidate Forums in election year cycles since its inception. We are well known and highly commended for our method of including audience participation in questioning candidates that is direct and in real time, while maintaining civility between the parties. We have come to be known as the safe harbor for candidates of all parties and perspectives to speak with the electorate in a moderated but open forum. Everyone is welcome to attend any or all of these forums.
