

Office of Child Abuse Prevention 2021 Parent Leadership Awards THE POWER OF PARENT LEADERS

During National Parent Leadership Month, the Office of Child Abuse Prevention (OCAP) would like to honor parents for the work that they do to improve their communities. Therefore, the OCAP will present awards to parent leaders for the Fourth Annual OCAP Parent Leadership Awards!

The OCAP defines a parent leader as someone who is able to achieve positive outcomes to improve the well-being of families, while encouraging other parents to take on leadership roles as well. A parent leader represents the views of parents and strives to meet the needs of the community.

Parents can be leaders through demonstration of any or all of the following qualities¹:

- 1. Welcoming all families into the community: Families who are active participants in the life of the community feel welcomed, valued, and connected within the community and to each other. This has an impact on the growth and development of children.
- 2. Communicative: Parents who regularly engage in two-way, meaningful communication with other families and organizations in the community are more aware of the needs of their children, which benefits their learning and social-emotional development.
- 3. Supportive: Families and community organizations that work together to support children's learning and development in all aspects of their lives, including at home, at school and in extracurricular activities, will strengthen children's knowledge and skills.
- 4. Outspoken: Parents are their children's most important advocate. Parents who are empowered to speak up help to ensure that their children have access to opportunities, programs and services that will support their lifetime success.
- 5. Collaborative: Parents who collaborate with other community members are better connected to one another and therefore open up more opportunities for learning, community service and civic participation.
